

Washington Host to 250, Including Governor

Washington Groups Entertain Guests, Governor Thursday With a Benefit Dinner

Historic Washington last night played host to the Governor of Arkansas at a $25 a plate dinner to raise funds to restore landmarks of other years. Some 250 persons attended.

Gov. Faubus commended Little Rock segregationists for their effort in fighting "Federal tyranny" and charged that the dinner today is a deliberate effort to stir up trouble by the state propaganda organ, "The Arkansas Gazette."

It is an effort to make it appear that the so-called segregation members of the Little Rock School Board are trying to destroy the Little Rock schools.

"To show you to what extent those who oppose me will go, the Gazette told a plain, unvarnished lie when they state that I denied going to Commonwealth College," the Governor said.

Touching on Act 10 of 1958, he noted the rumor and dispelled the requirements of the Act are not nearly as stringent as the oath required of federal employees and Army personnel.

The Governor took note that Washington was rich in history, being the state capital for a period during the Civil War when the federalists occupied Little Rock for the first time.

Joe Booker served as master of ceremonies and Rep. Talbot Field Jr. introduced honored guests. Bill Eyer welcomed visitors. Mrs. Ira Turner sang two special numbers and Judge James H. Pilkinton introduced the Governor.

Special guests included Mrs. Lotie Conway Morgan and Mrs. Mamie Johnston Shims, Texas-born granddaughters of Abraham Lincoln who built one of the famous homes that will be restored.

Lloyd Spencer, Farrar Newberry Arkadelphia historian, Senator Olen Hendrix, Judge U. G. Carroll, Mayor George Frazier, Mrs. C. A. Haynes and Sheriff Jimmy Griffin.

Experiment Station report for 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. Friday: High 87, Low 64; No precipitation; Total 1959 precipitation through April 13.99 inches; during the same period a year ago, 23.88 inches.

Million Acres of Cotton Harvested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas harvested 1,015,000 acres of cotton in 1958, the Agriculture Department reported today. This was a decrease of 150,000 acres from the 1957 figure.

Nationwide, the 1958 cotton crop totaled 11,512,000 bales with a farm value of $1,007,000,000.

This compared with the final estimate of 10,992,000 bales for the 1957 crop. No forecast for this year's crop will be given until August.

Value of the 1957 crop was put at $1,625,000,000.

Arkansas had a yield per acre of 430 pounds in 1958, compared to 416 in 1957, but produced only 225,000 bales last year, compared to 284,000 the year before.

Appeasement, Fear Ruled Out by Mr. Herter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will refuse to go to a summit conference if the Russians are carrying out their threat to turn East Berlin over to the East German Communists.

"He will take the same stand if the Soviets sign a separate peace treaty with puppet East Germany."

"Any such one-sided Soviet action in the next few weeks undoubtedly would wreck the Big Four foreign ministers conference due to begin in Geneva Monday."

This American attitude became known authoritatively a few hours before Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's scheduled take-off for pre-conference strategy talks with the British and French foreign ministers.

Herter himself already had served notice that the Russians must make concession for concession to end the danger of war.

Even as Herter arranged to leave, the three Allies were reported already arguing with the Soviets over where to sit to discuss the German deadlock.

In Geneva, Soviet diplomats insisted the talks take place around a round table. Western diplomats were holding out for a square table.

Despite pressure for a summit, talk regardless of progress in Geneva, Eisenhower was reported insisting the foreign ministers first must make concrete gains in easing the Berlin crisis and other German problems.

This means, informants said, that mere agreement at Geneva on a time, place and agenda for a summit meeting would not be enough to convince him that a conference with Russia's Nikita Khrushchev would be worth while.

Herter outlined America's position for the East-West talks starting Monday in a nationally broadcast address Thursday night.

He arranged a final meeting with President Eisenhower before heading for the Geneva meeting with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and Russia.

Herter's maiden speech won praise from Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, as "candid" and "statesmanlike."

In his half-hour address the new secretary pledged firmness and intent to negotiate in good faith. He called on the Communists to stop "businesslike negotiations and not a propaganda exercise."

He set forth three basic guidelines of Western policy for the negotiations and summed them up, saying:

"The heart of our policy can be clearly and simply said to be this: A Germany reunited in freedom, a security system linked with arrangements for arms control, and in the interim a free and secure Berlin."

Herter said that in the Geneva talks, the West would "honestly and in good faith seek some adjustment."

Deputy Defense Secy. Quarles Dies at 65

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles died today.

Quarles, second ranking defense official since 1957 and former secretary of the Air Force, died in his sleep.

Quarles was born in Van Buren, Ark., July 20, 1894.

The deputy defense chief had not been ill, so far as friends knew.

Quarles had been mentioned as a possible successor for Secretary of Defense Neil McMillen, who has announced his intention to leave the top Pentagon post this year.

Quarles was an official of the Western Electric Co. and a resident of New Jersey when he entered government service.

He was vice president of Western Electric and president of Solidia Corp., a subsidiary which operates the Sylvania Special Weapons Laboratory at Albuquerque, N.M., for the Atomic Energy Commission.

In 1953, President Eisenhower appointed Quarles an assistant secretary of defense for research and development.

Quarles became secretary of the Air Force in August 1955.

He is survived by his widow and three children.

Quarles had two daughters and a son, Carolyn Anne, Stanley C. Lewis, and Donald Aubrey Jr.

Quarles has served as acting head of the big Defense Department on many occasions when the defense secretary was absent.

Quarles started his climb from modest circumstances.

While still in short pants, he showed a bent for mathematics. He was graduated from high school. This he did. The 16-year-old was a teacher, so he said, he was forced a job teaching math in high school provided he went to the University of Missouri's summer school. This he did. The 10-year-old math teacher's first monthly paycheck was $5.

He went back to the university the next summer and again taught in high school. In addition he had some part-time jobs, saved his money and headed for Yale in 1912.

He got his B.A. degree in 1916 and the following year he enlisted in the Army. After two years in France and Germany during World War I, he came home a captain.

Mustered out, he got a job in New York with Western Electric's engineering department, did part time studying in theoretical physics at Columbia University. During World War II he had much to do with development of radar. Quarles did not smoke or drink. He enjoyed good music well enough to go "voluntarily to symphony."

Detective Will Not Retire Voluntarily

HOPE, ARK. (AP) — A detective for Detective Jerry Watkins said last night that he will not voluntarily retire from the force as requested by the Civil Service Commission.

The Commission had given Watkins until midnight last night to resign.

No specific charge for the detective has been given. The Commission has said it acted "for the good of the Police Department."

Watkins' attorneys handed Police Chief John Brimley a letter saying that Watkins was not legally required to retire and that the Civil Service Commission had exceeded its authority in requesting the resignation.

Mother of Five Arrested in Stock Deal

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A 31-year-old mother of five and expecting another child was jailed here yesterday after her arrest near Bentonville, Ark., on a charge of assisting the sale of unregistered corporation stock in connection with an alleged bogus "personal money order" scheme.

The woman, second person charged in the money order, stock and savings certificate selling operation, was identified in the charge filed by Tulsa County Attorney Robert D. Simms as Mae Glad, alias Mae Wesley, alias M. G. Wesley, alias Mae E. Ewing.

Simms said she had been a bookkeeper for the Security Express Corp., operated by Al S. Nelson, 56, who still is being sought here on a charge of selling unregistered stock.

Known as Mrs. Wesley, she was arrested on her farm 17 miles southeast of Bentonville by Benton County officers accompanied by Simms.

Simms claimed the woman admitted earlier this week she had worked with Nelson in Dallas, Tex., and handled books for four firms promoted by Nelson.

Simms said that seized records of the firms indicate a half million dollars' worth of "personal money orders" which were sold through agencies, stores and other places in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

Irate Patrons in L. R. Circulate Recall Petitions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Trade school patrons today rushed a petition of recall petitions against three Little Rock school board members responsible for a board or purge.

The recall movement, launched at a Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting Wednesday night and through support from the Chamber of Commerce, the Little Rock PTA Council and other civic groups.

Board President Ed McKinley was feared, cursed and challenged to a fight last night at a dedicated ceremony for a new school building. And after a group of junior high school shouted down two segregationists before voting 94-2 to support the recall movement.

About one-third of McKinley's dedication audience of 250 walked out when he criticized three board members who refused to participate in the purge. He said dissenters were guilty of furthering integration.

McKinley said later the whole thing was planned.

Those who remained applauded his speech. Many of them were identified as active segregationists.

Chamber of Commerce President E. Granger Williams yesterday said the purge was "an abusive use of power" and "a blacked human decency." He was backed by the chamber board of directors.

Named on the recall petitions are McKinley, Robert Laster and Ben Rowland. All avowed segregationists who voted Tuesday to fire 44 of the system's 800 teachers. They gave no reasons except to say some were disloyal for statements they had made about integration.

Meanwhile, the Classroom Teachers Assn. adopted a resolution declaring the discharges were illegal. The professional organization then voted unanimously to reject contracts offered by the school board to teachers it did not choose to retain.

Patrons of the Little Rock Central High School, a white school, told the group court action would be initiated against the board's action.

Russell Matson, Ted Lamb and Everett Tucker Jr., the board members who walked out of the purge session, joined the walkout on McKinley last night. These three have said they favor token integration to "destruction of the public school system."

"You've got no guts," and "Go back to Russia," the crowd yelled at the board president. One identified man cursed McKinley vehemently and asked him to fight. McKinley ignored him.

Dr. Drew F. Agar, chairman of a committee circulating the petitions, said it would take a week or 10 days to get about 8,000 signatures required to force a recall election.

"From the sentiments I've had expressed to me, we won't have any trouble," Agar said.

He said 3,000 petitions were printed and 500 were distributed and put into circulation last night.

At the Forest Heights meeting, W. H. Goodman, a board member of the private, all-white Raney High School, and Mrs. Margaret Morrison, tried to head off adoption of the recall resolution. Goodman was shouted from the stage after Edward Lester, co-chairman of the meeting, ruled him out of order and asked the crowd to approve the ruling.

Mrs. Morrison was heckled throughout a two-minute talk. When the vote came, only Goodman and a woman companion were heard to vote no.

U. S. Rejects Red Protest to Arms Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States rejected today the Soviet Union's protest against moves to provide nuclear weapons and missiles to some Atlantic Pact countries.

A formal note, delivered in Moscow brushed aside the Soviet claim that such moves represent an American effort to wreck the Big Four foreign ministers meeting due to begin in Geneva Monday.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will go to the Geneva conference, the note said, with a full desire to make every effort to bring it to a fruitful conclusion.

The note called on the Kremlin leaders to display the same attitude in accordance with the many Soviet public protestations of such a desire.

The American note was in reply to a Soviet protest sent April 21.

In their note, the Soviets charged that in advance of the Geneva meeting the United States was stepping up "nuclear and rocket arming of certain North Atlantic bloc member states."

The Soviet note complained specifically that American rockets and nuclear weapons are to be stationed in Greece, Turkey and West Germany as a follow up to arrangements already made in Britain and Italy.

Car Dealers Association Meets Here

The Arkansas Automobile Dealers Association in conjunction with the Hope Franchised Auto Dealers Association held the first regional meeting of franchised auto dealers in this area in several years. The meeting was a dinner affair, presided over by E. P. Young of Hope, area chairman of the National Automobile Dealers Assn., Washington, D.C. held at the Diamond Cafe last night.

Chairman Young opened the meeting and introduced the guests and out of town speakers. Mr. Young declared that in his opinion "more cars of all makes will be sold in 1959 than in any year since the banner automotive year of 1935 when the factories produced 7,500,000 vehicles."

"There is greater confidence in the automobile market since the Federal Sticker Bill went into effect," said Mr. Young.

Additional Funds Asked for Red River

WASHINGTON (AP) — Residents of the Red River Valley area in four states today asked a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee to increase budget recommendations for valley water projects by about one million dollars.

The delegation seeks an appropriation of $4,771,000. President Eisenhower has recommended $3,870,000 for Red River projects in the next fiscal year.

The Arkansas-Oklahoma-Texas-Louisiana group made the same plea before a House subcommittee yesterday.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The El Dorado City Council voted last night to put alternate proposals for financing renovation of the city sewer system on a June special election ballot.

The proposals concern purchase of the El Dorado Water Corp., for $3,300,000 and its operation by the municipality and a proposal for raising sewer taxes from $1 to $2 per month.

Steel Talks to Recess for a Few Days

By NORMAN WALKER

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel negotiators were expected to recess week-long preliminary contract talks today for a few days' respite to digest economic arguments exchanged this week.

The industry-union labor battle has gotten off to a fast start with both sides asking federal government investigations of each other's tactics.

It was indicated, however, that much of the bickering so far has been the normal posturing of two protagonists getting into a fight rather than any real barrier to the negotiations.

Words flew Thursday in the separate calls for the government to keep watch on the rival tactics.

Seeks Money to Fight Fire Ants

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Plant Board yesterday asked for bids on aerial spraying of about 25,000 acres in Union County to eradicate fire ants.

Bids will be opened next Wednesday. The contract calls for spraying to begin May 25 with one month permitted to finish the job.

Cost of the project will be shared by federal, state and county governments.

Aerial spraying in 1957-58 virtually knocked out the prospecting fire ants in Union County but they appeared again.

"But I don't want to be put in the Puritan class," he once said. When reporters reminded him that Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson had remarked that the man appointed to the Air Force job must "sit next to God have faith" and be one the Senate would confirm, Quarles chuckled and said: "Secretary Wilson had to revise that first qualification."

"This morning Quarles' chauffeur, Clarence Maron, went to Quarles' home to drive him to a studio for an early television interview."

"When Quarles failed to appear, the driver went into the house about 7:55 a.m. He was unable to arouse Quarles who was in bed. Maron called Col. Stanley C. Lewis, Quarles' son-in-law, Lewis hurried to the Quarles home."

A Pentagon spokesman said it was believed Quarles died several hours previously.

An attempt was made to revive him, but he was pronounced dead at about 8:30 a.m.

Quarles attended a dinner Thursday given by Undersecretary of the Air Force Malcolm MacIntyre at the MacIntyre home, together with several Pentagon officials.

Later, they attended an Air Force symphony concert.

Quarles was alone in the house at the time of his death.

Germans Hope to Lower U. S. Trade Barriers

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

BONN (AP) — Germany hopes to lower trade barriers with the United States still further as soon as possible—even including the controversial 10 per cent levy on new unwanted American coal. It also plans to encourage a two-way flow of capital investment.

These are the promises of finance Minister Dr. Franz Eitel, Eitel also said in an interview that Germany's troubles with its partners in the European economic union are "children's diseases of the common market" and are being worked out. Tax differences, subsidies and production practices are being ironed out. Even the long-term goal of a common currency is capable of final solution.

"Germany shouldn't be a closed shop," Eitel said of trade with America. "It doesn't intend to follow a protectionist policy. The tendency is all toward a liberal trade policy."

But the trade gap with the United States still exists, although it is narrowing, largely thanks to American buying of German autos. West Germany imports more from America than it sells there, but its exports to the United States are growing.

Germany's over-all trade picture, however, is bright and growing brighter, with total exports outweighing total imports so that its gold reserves are impressively high. Japan and other industrially developing countries are giving Germany their keenest competition now.

Before the coal and steel renaissance here last year Germany had freed 84 per cent of American imports from quota restrictions. Now 81 per cent of American trade is free — leaving some 400 items under controls out of a total of 6,000. Most important still restricted are textiles, plastics, chemicals, glass, ceramics and leather—and the special case of American coal.

Coal, steel and textiles are the problem children of German industry today. The economy as a whole rose last year and is rising still higher now.

The finance minister said that despite the efforts to block American coal imports, cutting down on mining hours from 45 to 40 a week, and of the mining force of 400,000 by 30,000, Germany is still adding 30,000 tons to its stocks every day and now has 14 million tons in reserve.

"If idleness continues in the coal industry," Eitel said, "there is always the danger of Communist infiltration among the jobless."

Musial's Homer Gives Cardinals a 4-3 Victory

By ED WILKS

Babe Ruth, Jimmy Fox, Mel Ott, Lou Gehrig, Ted Williams—and now Stan Musial.

Stan the Man, one of baseball's all-time great hitters, hammered his way into the select circle of sluggers Thursday night with his 40th home run—a 400-foot shot landing off the fifth inning at St. Louis that brought the Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Musial, at 37, has only two homers in this, his 18th season, but they've come on consecutive nights. And more than coincidentally, perhaps, they've triggered the Cards' first two-game winning "streak" of the year in the National League.

The milestone missile into the right-center field pavilion at Busch Stadium coupled Musial with Williams as the only 400-home-run sluggers now in business. Ruth, of course, is the all-time leader with 714. Fox, the only right-handed batter in the lot, finished with .534, Ott, the only other National Leaguer in the group, hit still sidelined by injury this season, has hit 482 for the Boston Red Sox.

Musial's homer climaxed a tremendous day for first baseman in the NL. Norm Larker, hit a two-run homer that gave Los Angeles a 2-1 victory over San Francisco, and Ted Kluszewski powered his first home run of the year, leading off the 10th inning for a 5-4 Pittsburgh victory over Philadelphia. Those were the only games scheduled in the NL.

In the American League, Baltimore breezed for a 10-1 victory at Washington and Detroit beat Boston 3-4 in the only games scheduled.

The homer was Musial's lone hit of the game. It came off reliever Don Elston (0-1). The Cards' other three runs also came on a homer, with pinch-hitter George Crowe delivering.

That tied it 3-3, after three solo homers off Card starter Lindy McDaniel by the Cubs' Jim Marshall, who hit a fair, and Ernie Banks, Howie Nunn (2-1), was the winner in relief for the last place Cards.

Larker, subbing for Gil Hodges, who pulled a shoulder muscle when he tripped in the second inning, ripped his winning homer in the fourth inning at San Francisco. It came off Jack Sanford (4-2), who had won four straight. The Giants, who pulled off five double plays, scored in their fourth on a triple by Willie Mays and Daryl Spencer's sacrifice fly.

Stan Williams (1-0) allowed the Giants but six hits—half of them by Mays. Willie also swung on a 3-0 pitch that would have given him an intentional walk—and fouled out with two men on base in the eighth.

After the game, the Dodgers flew home to Los Angeles, where they lost an exhibition night game to the New York Yankees 6-2 before 93,103, baseball's largest crowd ever.

TEXARKANA, Texas (AP)

Duncan Thompson, a soft-spoken East Texan who brought Texarkana Junior College from obscurity to football prominence in two years, resigned yesterday.

Kenneth Braden, assistant coach under Thompson for the past two years, will take over the job of athletic director and head grid coach.

Thompson came here from Linden, Tex., in 1937.

His Texarkana teams won 19 games, lost two and tied one. Thompson said he will take over as bulk agent for the Humble Oil and Refinery Co. in his hometown of Atlanta, Tex.

In 1931, the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad advertised in Little Rock newspapers that it was running trains on a daily basis as far west as Lewisburg, near the present-day site of Morrilton.

PULLING HIS WEIGHT

Malner Making a Career of the Senators

By ED WILKS

You might say Jerry Malner is making a major league career out of beating Washington. The 20-year-old right-hander has a 3-0 record for his three stabs at the big time with Baltimore—and each of those decisions was against the Senators.

He got the third, his second of the season, Thursday night, blanking the Nats on three hits before Reno. Bertola's eighth-inning home run, as the second place Orioles whipped Washington 1-1, and moved within two games of the idle Cleveland Indians.

Only one other American League game was scheduled, and Detroit took that, 3-1, from Boston.

In the National League, Stan Musial's 40th home run brought the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 2-1 and Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings. No other games were scheduled.

Walker, a 6-1, 185-pound Oklahoman, polished off the Senators with a five-hitter, walking two and striking out five.

The Thursday night game was packed away before Walker gave up Bertola's fourth homer. The Orioles, who have won four of their last five, ripped 17 hits off four Washington pitchers, chasing Pete Ramos (3-1) in a five-run second inning triggered by Gus Triandos' solo sixth homer.

Bob Nieman and Al Pillek scored as the Birds hit their one-game scoring high of the season. Nieman's shot was a two-run blast and his 10th home run in the majors.

Larry Doby drove home a pair of runs for the Tigers, getting the winner across while grounding out in a two-run sixth against the De Loks, who had won three in a row. It was the last place Tigers' third success in four games under Manager Jimmy Dykes and right-

SWC Discusses Limitation on Scholarships

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)

The Southwest Conference spring meeting opened yesterday with a limitation on athletic scholarships the major topic and the one due to bring on anything resembling a fight.

Apparently Baylor is the strongest backer of the plan to place a ceiling on the scholarships and has support but probably not enough to put the idea over.

Arkansas, Texas A&M and Texas are reportedly against it. Baylor, Texas Christian and Southern Methodist appear to favor it while the stand of Rice and Texas Tech isn't indicated.

The proposed is doubly aimed—to help economically and to better equalize the competition.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, does not open its session until this afternoon and only a meeting of the athletic directors, sitting as a committee on television and radio in basketball, was held yesterday.

Toward clubs secretary of the conference, reported that the athletic directors favored a package deal if sponsors could be obtained for next basketball season. Two would-be sponsors—Humble and Magnolia Oil companies—met with the committee and discussed the situation.

The television and radio plan must be approved by the faculty committee but Grubbs said there was little likelihood it would be turned down. The committee is the same that worked out the regional football schedule for next fall.

If basketball is televised in a package deal next season it will be for night games since the coaches do not want to play Saturday afternoons because of the poor drawing power. This would, of course, eliminate the sports network Saturday afternoon games of last season.

If the television plan is carried out there will be blackouts in the area, unless the games are near sellouts, so as not to hurt attendance.

Last season six or seven games were televised but under the package plan this year there would be many more.
